

PARKING LOT LAYOUT

Parking lot safety can be improved by providing drivers and pedestrians reasonable access pathways, and signs and pavement markings similar to those they normally encounter on public roads. The parking lot below shows a few of the issues that should be considered in parking lot design. This lot is representative of a lot involved in a hit-pedestrian case. As with many parking lots, there are good features and bad – some add to safety and some create hazards for drivers and pedestrians.

PARKING LOT INVESTIGATIONS: The experts involved in parking lot investigations vary from case to case, but often include civil engineers, architects, premises security professionals, or retail operations experts. For help determining which of our experts is best suited to address the technical aspects of your case, please contact a Robson Forensic office to discuss your case.